

Referral Partnership Agreement of
SOP Management Platform “Teachme Biz”

SINGAPORE, September 1, 2020 — NTT DOCOMO ASIA Pte. Ltd (“DOCOMO ASIA”) announced today that it has entered into a referral partnership agreement in the Asia-Pacific region with Studist Corporation (“Studist”) who offer a cloud-based visual standard operating procedure (SOP) management platform “Teachme Biz”.

Teachme Biz greatly improves workforce productivity by streamlining the creation, distribution, operation, and management of corporate standard working procedures. In addition to drastically reducing the time required to create procedure manuals, positive results have been reported in streamlining human resource development and improving customer satisfaction in the retail, food and beverage, accommodation, manufacturing, logistics, and medical industries.

In the Asia-Pacific region, the digitization of employee education and the shift toward e-learning is accelerating due to the significant changes in work styles from the impact of COVID-19. DOCOMO ASIA is expanding its service portfolio to respond to these changes and will introduce Studist’s “Teachme Biz” to customers in the Asia-Pacific region.

Going forward, DOCOMO ASIA will continue to accurately grasp customer needs and offer solutions and services that add value and contribute to resolving social issues.
